ABOUT DIAMOND

Diamond Rodriguez is a cogent motivational international speaker who has spoken on national stages and in South America. She has a unique personal story of being in need of a wheelchair for 9+ years and overcame by applying what she calls her Defy the Odds Formula (c) 2015. Today she walks. Her Defy the Odds Formula provides a transformational perspective, techniques on breaking mental & emotional barriers and education on the physiological impact on an individual's breakthrough. She shares the importance of congruency between the mind, body & spirit.

She is also proficient and trained in Right Brain Education for all ages. She home-schooled her daughter from 6 months to age 3 then entered her daughter into the Montessori school system where she volunteered to apply & share her training in Right Brain Methods with the students. Diamond has done extensive research on how our brain works, whole brain learning, the physical, nutritional, and mental/emotional impact on the brain.

As a Certified Life Strategist and Master Business Coach, she inspires change and transformational breakthroughs through her coaching & speeches. She has a passion for financial literacy education and has been coached by millionaires on how to manage your finances.

Diamond also has a background in team building, direct sales marketing and real estate investing. She is equipped to speak and educate on creating systems and scaling your business for success.
